

As Jap Forces Attack Australia's Outposts

View of Rabaul, on New Britain Island, where Japs are reported to have landed

In what is feared to be the first step toward an attack on Australia, Japanese warships were sighted off Rabaul, important commercial port on the Australian-ruled island of New Britain, in the Bismarck archipelago, and Japanese planes bombed the Solomon Islands. New Britain is only 800 miles from the island continent. Two heavy bombing raids also were made by the Japs on Rabaul. New Britain island has an area of 10,500 square miles. It is only a short jump from New Britain to New Guinea, which, if seized, would give the Japanese aerial bases for attacks on Australian cities.

Beloit and Washingtonville Cars Collide; Pole Is Clipped Off

Two traffic accidents in the district were investigated last night by the state highway patrol, while a series of mishaps occurred this morning on highways made slippery by frost.

Four men were injured at 10 p. m. Friday when an automobile driven by Ralph Leroy Wyss, 34, of R. D. 2, Beloit, collided with another operated by Kenneth Lindsay, 22, of Washingtonville, on Route 62 at Damascus.

Wyss received a laceration over the right eye and a cut hand. Walter Woods, 20, William Richards, 24, and Fred Heffner, 19, all of Washingtonville, passengers in Lindsay's car, suffered cuts and bruises. They were treated at Salem City hospital.

Wyss' car, which was almost demolished, knocked down a telephone pole.

Mrs. Vesta Marie Sheets, 43, of R. D. 3, Salem, received an abdominal injury when her automobile and car driven by Milan H. Millard, 21, of R. D. 2, Salem, and Tony Joseph Colan, 43, of 890 Jennings ave., collided on the Millville hill of Route 14, just east of her, at 8:30 this morning, the patrol said.

No one was reported injured when autos driven by Walter Leonard, 27, of East Palestine, and Robert Chance, 24, of Alliance, crashed on Route 62, near Alliance, at 11:45 p. m. yesterday.

U. S. ORDERS PROBE
OF SUGAR SELLING

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Retailers who require consumers to buy a designated amount of groceries in order to obtain a limited amount of sugar were said by the justice department today to be subject to prosecution under the anti-trust laws. Complaints of such a practice are widespread and are being investigated, the department said.

An official said that prosecution could be undertaken if the practice involved monopoly or a conspiracy of two or more persons or concerns. The maximum penalty is $5,000 or a year's imprisonment or both.

Nurse Refresher
Courses Arranged

Final plans for the "refresher" course for nurses here and arrangements for a similar course to be offered in Columbiana for nurses from Columbiana and East Palestine were completed at a meeting of approximately 50 registered nurses last night in the Nurses' home, E. State st.

The course arrangements are in the hands of the committee on national defense of District 3, Ohio State Nurses' association. The classes, which will start Monday, are open to all registered nurses who have not been actually engaged in nursing recently.

Classes, which nurses are asked to attend in uniform, will be held from 7 to 9:30 p. m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday in Salem City hospital.

Speakers at the meeting last night were Miss C. Marie Pawcett, chairman of District 3 committee on nursing and national defense and night supervisor of the Northside unit of the Youngstown City hospital; and John A. Woodward, chairman of the public welfare and medical preparedness committee of the Northern Columbiana County Defense council.

Miss Ann Thomas is chairman for Columbiana county in the District 3 committee group.

STORY OF NEW YORK
WILL BE REVIEWED

The second of the Timely Topics programs at the Methodist church will be given at 8:15 p. m. Monday when Mrs. Guy E. Byers will review the book "Young Ames" by Walter D. Edmunds.

The colorful period of American shipping development and the New York of 1830 are used as a background for the story of an American youth who is ambitious to win wealth and fame.

The series of programs, which will close Feb. 23 with a talk on Russia, "Yesterday and Today", by Prof. Louis A. Dees, Youngstown college faculty member, is sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the church.

REDS CIRCLE
HITLER CAMP

But Whether Adolf remained at Smolensk Is Unknown Today

(By Associated Press)
Russia's hard-driving armies today were reported to have "almost encircled" Adolf Hitler's field headquarters at Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow, bottled up German-held Rzhev and advanced within 120 miles of the Latvian frontier in a 65-mile sweep through the Valdai hills.

Whether Hitler still remained at Smolensk was unknown.

Rzhev, 125 miles northwest of Moscow, was a main German defense anchor guarding the "escape corridor" of Hitler's battered armies retreating along the Napoleonic road from Moshalsk to Smolensk.

On the North African front, the astonishing bombing of Britain's counter-offensive was marked by a great new tank battle raging along the Gulf of Sirte, north of Axis-occupied Agadabia.

A bulletin from British headquarters said Lieut. Gen. Neil Ritchie's main British forces had fought the counter-attacking German army on a "very large" battlefield but that the result of the fighting was not yet known.

Dispatches said Gen. Erwin Rommel had apparently thrown more than half of his remaining tanks into a triangular battle zone, with its points at Agadabia, 80 miles south of Benghazi; at Saunni, 42 miles to the east; and at Antelat, 30 miles northeast of Agadabia.

A German communiqué reported briefly that "In North Africa the attack of German and Italian troops supported by bombers and dive bombers is continuing successfully."

Victory Dance Seeks Funds
For Medical Defense Set-Up

Workers Hope To Raise Enough To Equip 10 First Aid and Casualty Stations Here

Salem is going to stage a "Victory dance" in behalf of its Civilian Defense and Medical Preparedness fund, Friday evening, Feb. 13, at the Elks home.

Plans for the affair were well under way today, with Dr. R. T. Holzbach, city health commissioner, serving as general chairman, and Mrs. Arthur Brian as chairman of the ticket sales committee.

The dance will be held under auspices of the Salem Defense council to raise much-needed funds for furnishing and equipping the ten first aid and casualty stations which are to be established in the city in the very near future to cope with emergency situations, should they arise.

In addition to the casualty stations, the defense unit is completing arrangements for housing facilities for 2,000 persons and plans to feed 4,000 persons, if the need arise, within three hours after being so notified. The casualty stations which will be established in various sections of the city will be prepared to take care of 1,000 persons.

"Down Under" Nation Preparing to Meet Japanese Invasion Threat

DRAFT SPEEDED UP
BY WAR MINISTER

Nipponese Apparently Under Control of Island of New Britain

(By Associated Press)

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 24.—Australia mobilized her home defenses and hastened the marshalling of her manpower today under the urgency of an invasion menace as Japanese forces, landed under the big guns of a strong naval squadron, apparently were in control of Rabaul, capital of the Australian-ruled island of New Britain.

War Minister Francis M. Forde announced that home defenses were being mustered and that the drafting of married men under the age of 35 and unmarried men under 45 was being accelerated.

He previously announced the landing on New Britain, an important link in the chain of outer islands protecting the Australian mainland, following thrusts which gave the Japanese footholds on New Guinea to the west and at Kieia, on the tip of the Solomon Islands to the east.

"Immediate action must be taken to place every unit on a war footing at this time when the safety of the nation is paramount," the war minister declared.

"Individual Australians who are prepared for strong action will get it."

Regulations were expected Monday requiring aliens and refugees to register for military service.

Forde announced that the war cabinet would reconvene tomorrow and that the war advisory council had been summoned for Monday when it will discuss the advisability of calling parliament. An early session, however, was not expected.

TAX SETTLEMENT
WILL BE DELAYED

LISBON, Jan. 24.—Columbiana county's subdivisions were told today not to expect settlement of the December tax collection which is already one month late, before the latter part of April.

The real property tax collection is later than usual this year as budgets of the taxing districts were not established until after the special election on January 6, at which a two-mill levy for county welfare purposes was turned down.

Approval of the rates of taxation by the state tax commission was obtained Thursday by Auditor Ross Tisher. Treasurer Olen H. Dawson is now preparing the tax statements for mailing to all real estate property owners of the county.

Dawson stated no definite date for the opening of the tax collection has yet been established, but an effort will be made to have the statements in the mails early in April.

FIVE NATIONS
CUT WITH AXIS

Will Take Action Immediately Following Parley In Rio

(By Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 24.—Five South American nations were expected today to sever diplomatic relations with Japan, Germany and Italy on the basis of a compromise anti-Axis resolution approved last night by the political committee of the third conference of pan-American foreign ministers.

Needing only the formal approval of the full conference, the resolution represents a major triumph for Argentina, which balked at two previous resolutions requiring a rupture of relations with the Axis.

The compromise recommends, but does not require, a severance of relations.

As the delegation chiefs gave their approval to the resolution, Foreign Minister Alberto Guani of Uruguay said his country would sever Axis relations, and authorized sources said Brazil, Bolivia, Paraguay and Peru would follow suit.

If they do, it would leave only Argentina, Chile and Ecuador on the diplomatic fence. The remainder of the 21 American nations either are at war with the Axis or have broken off relations.

Sumner Welles, United States undersecretary of state, told the committee in Spanish that his government wished the resolution had been stronger.

Unity Is Ideal

"The ideal of my life always has been American unity," said Welles. "If it had been possible, my government would have liked something more definite and stronger."

"In our concept, the nations which carried war to the United States also carried it to the other hemisphere."

Voluntary Blood
Donors Enrolled

Eighteen Red Cross chapters in northeastern Ohio today were asked to enroll voluntary blood donors in their communities, a civilian defense project which was launched here several days ago by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. William G. Mather, chairman of the Cleveland Blood Donor committee, identified the communities as Salem, Akron, Alliance, Barberton, Canton, Chardon, Elyria, Lorain, Mansfield, Massillon, Medina, Painesville, Ashtabula, Ravenna, Wadsworth, Warren, Wooster and Youngstown.

The program was started here earlier this week when a group of the Junior Chamber members offered themselves as possible blood donors and had their blood typed at the hospital.

Mrs. Betty Harris, wife of Jaycee Member H. D. Harris, was the first woman to have her blood typed for use if the occasion should arise.

There are four blood types, the person with type No. 1 being considered a universal recipient. A person with type No. 4 is recognized as a universal donor.

Salem residents wishing to enlist as possible blood donors are asked to call Lowell Brown.

MORE AID CLASSES
START NEXT WEEK

Two more Red Cross first Aid classes are to be started here next week, an advanced class under the direction of Dr. Guy E. Byers, and a class for men under Dr. F. R. Crecway. Fifty textbooks have just been received.

As more text books are received, additional classes will be formed, Red Cross officials announced. More than 200 persons have enrolled for the courses and it will take time to get all of the classes organized, it is explained.

Each person who has registered for the first aid courses will be notified by mail of the time and place of the meeting of the class to which they have been assigned. Two classes were begun last week.

LOSSES HEAVY IN BATAN WAR

Fresh Japanese Soldiers Landed In Drive On MacArthur Army

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—"Heavy losses" on both sides were reported from the Philippines today in fierce fighting that failed to prevent the landing of fresh Japanese troops on the Batan peninsula.

The weary American-Filipino defenders, already heavily outnumbered, gave way at several positions on the peninsula's west coast and on Subic bay when Japanese poured ashore under the fire of their navy's warships.

A war department communiqué reporting this today said that the foe was expelled from some points by fierce counter attacks, but other points remained in the enemy's possession.

"Heavy losses were suffered on both sides," the department reported.

Meanwhile the Japanese continued to land reinforcements in Subic bay and on the west coast of the rugged peninsula, increasing their numerical superiority. American and Philippine troops were described as fatigued from continual fighting but undiminished in enthusiasm, courage and devotion.

A spokesman said the Japanese appeared to be trying to turn General MacArthur's left flank, anchored on the South China sea, while

U.S. Representative Speaks To Industrialists At Gathering Here

DECLARES DANGER WAS NEVER GREATER

Emphasizes War Production, No Merely Defense, Order Now

More stringent rules and regulations for the protection of industrial plants throughout the northern Columbiana county district were forecast by Lieut. James T. Babbitt of the Cleveland ordinance district when he addressed a gathering of Columbiana county industrialists Friday night at the Memorial building.

The meeting, which followed dinner at 6:30, was attended by close to 100 persons. Russell J. Barrow, chairman of the industrial protection committee of the county defense organization, presided.

"We've got a war to win and we're going to win it," Lieut. Babbitt said. "The war and navy departments are tightening up on rules for plant protection and defense and if you don't think so, just wait and see!"

The complacency of those individuals who say "It can't happen here" drew the officer's fire.

Never before in the history of the nation has the danger of sabotage to our industrial plants been more threatening," Lieut. Babbitt warned. "This war, which started 15 years ago when enemy armies were sent out from foreign countries to permeate our industrial setup."

Beyond Defense Stage
"We've all got a job to do now because our shops are now on a war production basis—not purely defense," the ordinance officer added, before opening a discussion on suggestions for the proper protection of industrial plants in the district.

He praised the accomplishments of chairmen of committees of the United Defense Council of Northern Columbiana county, who traced the work of their groups to date.

Guards in plants handling war orders are an absolute necessity, Lieut. Babbitt said. The War department recommends that guards be armed, those not familiar with firearms being properly schooled.

He said that the guards should be on the alert at all times, watching plant entrances, making sure that every worker wears an identification badge.

Packages in and out of the shops should be inspected. Lunch boxes should even be inspected occasionally. Motor carrier and railroad entrances to the shops also should be carefully guarded.

The army officer said that all vulnerable spots in plant areas should be marked as restricted zones that all factories should have adequate floodlighting outside the plants and that every worker should surround all factories, being at least six feet high, with three strands of barbed wire at the top.

"Priorities," he said, "may be obtained for securing protective material."

He told the industrialists that they were going to have to spend some money in protecting their plants but that it was mandatory now that the shops handling war orders be properly protected.

Advised To Guard Tools
Manufacturers should make certain to guard their precision tools from possible theft, he added. The lieutenant suggested that all district factories, whether working

SECOND BOUNCE

Don't look now, but railroad passenger fares are being jacked up 10 percent to help meet increased operating costs. The operating costs were jacked up by a general jacking up of costs, including a wage increase for railroad employees.

The employees had a fool-proof claim, no doubt of it. Their living costs were rising. Their living costs were rising because it was becoming more expensive to run grocery stores and meat markets. Clothing and shoes were costing more. Landlords had to have more rent because their living expenses were going up too. The railroad employees were in the same boat as everybody else, in other words.

So they got a little more money, and now the railroads will have to get a little more Monday. That means a lot of other people will have to get a little more money, such as people who must ride on trains and don't have a pass. It's the same old story, and every time it's retold it comes a little closer to being the only thing known about economics for sure. When things start to go up, they just keep going up; when they start to come down they just keep coming down.

NOT NUMB, JUST CALM

The accusation of complacency being fired at Americans makes some of them stamp and snort. They reply makes sense.

It's not complacency but poise, they explain. There's a difference. More or less unconsciously, every American who uses his head for something besides a place to hang his face knew there would come a day when the United States would have to endure trial by fire. Its troubles began in the great depression, which was a kind of preliminary test.

Americans learned in the depression that nothing can be accomplished by excitement and yelling; they tried it. They learned in World War I, which doesn't seem so long ago as it used to, that nothing looks quite so silly by hindsight as war hysteria; they were guilty of a lot of it 25 years ago.

They have been learning in World War II that what they are up against in Hitler's Germany is a ruthlessly militant nation taking orders from a crowd of fanatics who have made a science of starting the intended victims of their aggression half to death before going to work on them with guns and bombs. American common sense warns that there's no percentage in helping the grimace and Halloween ideologists who have been graduated with the D. T. degree from Hitler's school.

It is true that Americans haven't comprehended yet what the real proportions of their trial by fire are going to be, but they are braced for anything. If they seem unduly calm, it's not because they're numb. It's because they are ready to take their bumps and return them, with compound interest. They are not being lulled into any sense of false security. They are buckling down to all the dangers they are aware of—and they are refusing to get panicky.

U-BOATS RETURN TO AMERICA

First thing to remember about the U-boat campaign against coastal shipping in the Atlantic is that it happened before. In World War I, Germany sent four of its best submarines across the Atlantic and destroyed 69 ships. Their function was to destroy troop transports, but they failed. As in the campaign now in progress, they had to confine themselves to unprotected shipping.

That toll is not surprising. It is a situation made to order for submarine warfare—no convoys and no other well organized plan of protection. Within a matter of a few weeks at the most, when there has been time to meet this new situation, it is probable that the campaign will fizzle out like the Japanese raids off the Pacific coast.

The likelihood of failure is not based on over-confidence, but on the circumstances of submarine raiding. Unless the U-boats now off the Atlantic coast have adequate bases on this side of the ocean, they cannot continue to carry on their raids.

If Germany has been permitted to establish bases on this side of the ocean, or having established them is permitted to maintain them, then Americans have no right to expect anything but a long succession of bad news about shipping in coastal waters. The thousands of ships sent to the bottom since 1914 testify that all of the horrible implements of destruction that have caught the fancy of the Germans, the U-boat is second only to the bomber in destructive possibilities when a victim can be caught at a disadvantage.

Uncle Sam should devise some sort of postage-due stamp for the cars that have no Federal use stamps on their windshields.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, January 25

SUNDAY'S horoscope seems to hold certain grave possibilities, calling for good judgment, poise, patience and perseverance in order to circumvent portentous or critical climaxes both in business and in private life. While there may be a surprising sudden opening for adventure or progress in new lines, yet there are signs urging unusual care, discretion and prudence in making changes, or in travel or setting out on strange propositions.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be suddenly presented with a dramatic or thrilling opening to do something out of the routine or ordinary, yet they are beset by certain situations that demand much discretion, stabilization and profound judgment before embracing anything hazardous, regrettable or a situation menacing the year.

A child born on this day should have much stability and depth with creative urges of unusual scope, at the same time encountering an experience of trial and tribulation, with many fluctuations in life.

For Monday, January 26

MONDAY'S astrological augury is an intriguing one, with certain testimonies for strange, unusual and unconventional as well as disruptive and disintegrating situations to be shrewdly solved. In customary ways this solution may be difficult but there is a most fortuitous sign of assistance and encouragement from a hidden, curious or mystifying source. It might be psychic, intuitive or because of great personal creative talents or cleverness. Shun important change and travel.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be on the eve of a year of most mystifying and intriguing experiences which may arise to unravel strange, extraordinary or unorthodox situations. The latter may be unique and thrilling as well as dramatic, but a prompting of the "wee small voice" may avert trials and mistakes.

A child born on this day should be unusually talented, creative and original, with strong mystical or inspirational leads in life, which will help in peculiar and trying situations.

CLUTCH TROUBLE!

PROGRESS MADE BY INDUSTRIAL SURGERY

Great Strides Taken by Specialized Practice

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
A specialty in medical practice which has made great strides in the past few years, is that of industrial surgery. It was, of course, natural in a great industrial age that this should be so, but most people do not realize, I believe, how specialized a department it is.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

For instance, I find in the magazine which devotes itself to this specialty, Industrial Medicine, the following subjects listed as the ones which have received the largest amount of attention in the industrial field of medicine in the past few years: Dust, lead, silicosis, skin diseases, carbon monoxide, gas, eyes, ventilation, air conditioning, benzene, tuberculosis, workman's compensation and industrial hygiene. A subject which does not appear on this list, but which nevertheless takes up a great deal of the industrial surgeon's time, is burns.

I was especially impressed with the work of the industrial surgeon recently when I visited, with the surgeon in charge, one of the large U. S. Ordnance plants that is being built. I never saw anyone more alert and interested and full of his job, and with a more intelligent grasp of his problems and responsibilities.

Treatment of Burns

One thing that impressed me with the specialization in industrial surgery and also the common sense with which this young man met his problems was in a discussion of the subject of burns. He said that he had a number of burns which were both chemical and heat burns, and he had found out that unless you treat them as chemical burns first, they do not heal.

I asked him how he treated the chemical burns and he said that the first thing he wanted to find out was whether the chemical that did the burning was an acid or an alkali. If it was an acid, he taught the men to put baking soda solution on the burn immediately. If it was an alkali, he taught them to use vinegar and vinegar-soaked gauze on the burn as soon as possible.

Here was not only technical knowledge of the condition, but also the ability to get down to ordinary, every-day life in telling the workmen to use substances on which they could put baking soda solution immediately to counteract the effect of a burn. In any kitchen they could get either baking soda or vinegar—one an alkali and the other an acid. He told me that he had seen some of these burns, which if not treated for the chemical, remained open and sloughing for several months.

Preventive Medicine

As we drove over the plant, I found out that the young doctor was thinking about his job all the time and that he was thinking in terms of prevention. We passed two men who were working on a stalled caterpillar tractor and the doctor said, "I'll bet they haven't even got a first-aid kit with them."

He had a real man-sized job in educating the workers to take first-aid kits with them wherever they went and was teaching them how to apply emergency first-aid treatment under all conditions.

I went to the hospital and found that in putting up this plant, they had very sensibly erected the fire house first and the hospital second. It was a well-equipped hospital with all the equipment necessary for first-aid emergency treatment, and also for treatment of common ailments such as colds, sore throats and so forth.

The industrial surgeon does not observe union hours. By the time we got to the hospital, it was almost seven o'clock in the evening, but the doctor and the nurse were still on the job.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. I. S.: "Does peanut butter furnish a complete protein food?"

Answer: Peanut butter is twenty-nine per cent protein, forty-six per cent fat, and seventeen per cent carbohydrate, and is high in caloric value. No vegetable furnishes a complete protein and peanut butter agrees with this rule.

T. S.: "What benefit is derived from drinking buttermilk?" I have been told that it is very good for colitis, and that it contains bacteria in it that are healing to the colon."

Answer: The advantages of buttermilk are that it is not as fattening as ordinary milk in equal amounts and that it is a rather pleasant stimulant to the digestion. Buttermilk itself is not the kind of acid milk which changes the bacteria in the colon. This is done by another kind of milk called acidophilus milk.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Wants Name Changed

MIKADO, Mich. — First act of Mikado's winter sports queen, Mary Jane Smith, was to propose that her home town's name be changed to MacArthur in honor of the commander of U. S. and Filipino forces in the Philippines. There's been agitation for a change ever since the Japanese Mikado's troops struck at Pearl Harbor.

SOUTHBURIDGE, Mass. — Carrots and spinach have acquired war-time importance with the arrival of blackouts in America. Dr. R. J. Beitel of the American Optical Co. says the high vitamin A content of these vegetables help prevent night blindness.

TAXES REDUCED IN 23 SUBDIVISIONS

Millage In Five Districts Is Increased Over Last Year's Figures

LISBON, Jan. 23.—The tax rates of 23 subdivisions in Columbiana county have been reduced from 1940 rates, while the millage in five taxing districts was increased. The remaining 23 remain the same under rates established by the county budget commission and approved by the state department of taxation.

The cuts range from 5 mills down to 40 cents on the thousand. East Palestine and New Waterford corporations received 5-mill reductions, the former being cut from 23 to 18 mills, and the latter from 22 to 17 mills.

4-Mill Reductions
Wellsville city, Columbiana village and Columbiana school district each received 4-mill reductions; Saline township's rate was cut 3.7 mills, and Salineville corporation and Unity township school district were reduced 3 mills. Wellsville's new rate under the second successive yearly 4-mill reduction will be 19 mills instead of 23, while Columbiana village and schools district's new rates, among the lowest in the county, are 13.5 and 13 mills respectively.

Salineville, with a 3-mill reduction, will pay 20 mills; Leetonia, with 1.5-mill reduction will pay 17.5 mills and Lisbon's rate was decreased 0.5-mills to 16.5-mills.

Salem city and school district each noted 1.5-mill increase due to school levies, and will pay 20.50 and 16.30 mills; while Perry township with a similar increase will pay 16.30.

East Liverpool municipal corporation, the only other district with an increase, will pay 18.25 instead of the 18-mills of last year. This is attributed to the fact that while the debt levy was decreased from 5.60 to 3.45, the levy for general purposes was increased from 2.40 to 4.58 and the levy for pension purposes increased from 20 to 142 mills.

School Millage Reduced
Wellsville school district rate was reduced 2.6; Smith township school district, 2.4; Salineville school district and Yellow Creek township were each reduced 2 mills. Washingtonville corporation and Leetonia school districts were each cut 1.5 mills, while Center township, East Palestine school district, Fairfield township and Fairfield school district have 1-mill reductions. Goshen township school district was reduced .80 and the Alliance school district in Knox township was cut .40 mills.

In other districts 1940 rates remain in effect in the following subdivisions: Liverpool twp., St. Clair twp., East Liverpool school district, Middleton twp., Negley school district and Rogers corporation. New Waterford school district, Madison, Elkrun, Washington and Wayne townships, Hanover school district, Lisbon and Wayne twp. school districts, Hanover corporation, Butler, Summitville, and East Rochester school district, Franklin, Hanover, Butler, West and Knox townships.

The first professional training school for librarians in the world was established at Columbia College, New York, in 1887.

"THURSDAY'S CHILD" by VERA BROWN

FROM THE OLD RHYME: "THURSDAY'S CHILD HAS FAR TO GO"

SYNOPSIS

Leslie (Sonny) Richardson, a vivacious, 18-year-old redhead, is maid-of-all-work in her foster father's roadside lunchroom on the outskirts of Monroe, Michigan. Life to her was just work and arguments with her foster father. Then, one day, Tom, a young college student, drove up in an expensive trailer. Tom is attracted to Sonny and asks her to go dancing. When she tells him she doesn't know how to dance, he drops a coin in the phonograph and proceeds to teach her. Just then Richardson appears on the scene and orders the boys out. That was the last straw for Sonny. She decides to run away. So, that night, when Tom calls to apologize for getting her in trouble and asks her to meet him, she agrees, planning to use the boys in her scheme to escape. She slips out of the house and meets Tom and Jamie, but gives them no inkling of her plans until after a happy night of dancing. Then, as they are about to take her home, Sonny astonishes them with the announcement, "I'm not going back, ever!"

CHAPTER FIVE

Jamie and Tom were aghast. "But you can't do that!" Tom was the first to get his voice. "I told you there was a catch to this," Jamie warned. "Keep still! You've got to go home, Sonny," Tom insisted. "She only shook her head. 'I brought along what few clothes I have. They're in that package in the car.'"

That left them speechless for a moment. Then they argued for a time.

"You don't understand. I hate my life and I hate him! I'd rather be dead than go back!"

Jamie shrugged his shoulders. "Well, it's a pretty good record. We've been away two days and this is the first time you, Tom, have got into trouble."

"Shut up, this is serious," Tom retorted. He leaned across the table. "Sonny, look at me. Are you sure you don't plan this because you know who I am?"

The girl wanted to ask who he was but refrained. She knew he was really worried.

"Is this a hold-up?" Tom persisted. He eyed her with sudden distrust mingled with admiration. She heard that telephone call home. It was very neat, this. But her candid eyes were so frank, he couldn't believe it.

He made another try. "It amounts to this. My family have a lot of money." But he stopped suddenly, ashamed under her widening eyes.

"I just have to get away," she pleaded. "I want nothing, Tom, but your help. I've got to have it. I'm desperate. I can work—"

He made a grimace. "In another restaurant, I suppose."

"Yes. I want to earn money so I can go to business college. I want a different kind of life. Always I've dreamed that some day things would be different for me. If I hadn't believed that, I couldn't have lived. I'm going now, Tom, no matter what."

"Even if you put me on a spot?" "I won't."

"But your old man will."

Sonny was desperate now. They had to help her.

Tom, I hate him with all my heart, but he is honest, whatever else he is."

Tom shook his head, remarking,

"The window's locked! What shall I do?" cried Sonny.

"You don't understand. If there is publicity, well, my family will suffer. I've got into a lot of scrapes—just naturally gravitate toward trouble. But this is dynamite!"

He touched Sonny's hand, which lay clenched on the table. "I want to help you. I think you're swell. Go back tonight. I promise I'll see you get a break. You can trust me. Only for my sake, go back home now."

The girl's head dropped. "I knew it was too good to be true. I'll go back." Her face was white.

In the morning, Richardson would punish her for the dance episode. If he ever found out she had tried to run away, he'd do something terrible. And the boys would forget. They'd go on their way and she'd be left behind—for always.

In silence they went out to Tom's car. It was a beautiful night, but Sonny no longer saw it. She sat in quiet despair as Tom sped back up the Dixie toward Richardson's lunch room. They stopped a short distance from it.

"There!" Tom said. "Now you go on like a good girl!"

He gave Sonny's slim shoulders a little hug. "I won't desert you, young lady. I'll see you go to business college. I swear. Just get back before your old man finds out you're gone. Tomorrow, before we go, I'll give you some money. Then you can beat it when you get a chance."

The girl could not find her voice to speak.

"Get going. We'll wait here to be sure you get in. Get something white and signal when you're inside."

Sonny was shivering. Her father would see the broken netting over her window in the morning. He'd know.

"I can't," she said, hopelessly. "You promised. Chin up and I'll see you get a job in New York when you finish school."

There was nothing to do but go. She went away from them into the darkness. They could see her blurred figure going across the fields, for the late moon had risen.

She must have reached the house.

Quakers Score In Final Seconds Of Game To Edge Rayen, 36-35

CUBS MAY PLAY NIGHT TILTS AT COMISKEY FIELD

War Caused Abandonment Of Plans For Lighting Of Wrigley Field

CHICAGO—Baseball fans of Chicago's North Side figure they might need daylight saving time more than ever this summer to see all the Cub games.

The time, would be consumed in traveling to Chicago's South Side where the Cubs may play a prospective night game schedule.

President Roosevelt suggested that more night games be played and Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, yesterday called a joint meeting of major league club owners for Feb. 3 in New York to discuss such action.

The Cubs, however, are without a lighting plant. They started equipping Wrigley field for 1942 night ball, but with the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Owner P. K. Wrigley said plans were abandoned.

Instead, 165 tons of steel, 35,000 feet of copper wire and other equipment was turned over to the government.

"We felt this material could be more useful in lighting flying fields, munition plants or other defense plants under construction," said Wrigley.

And so, in the words of General Manager James Gallagher, "If it is the general consensus that we should play night baseball we will open negotiations to use Comiskey Park home of the (White Sox) on a rental basis."

Both Gallagher and Wrigley averred, "It would be a blow to our pride to play elsewhere than in our own park, but we feel that under the circumstances this would be the only sane and logical thing to do."

The National league last week agreed to an increase in night games long sought by the American league, but expressed hope the maximum would not exceed 14 games. Some American league clubs would prefer 14 as the minimum and a decision is expected to be reached at the Feb. 3 meeting. The present limit for each club is seven night games at home.

Reserves Defeat Rayen By 35-26

Unleashing a furious last quarter spurt which netted them 16 points, the Salem Reserve five came from behind to throttle the Rayen Saxs, 35-26, here last night. The locals took an early lead on the strength of "Sleepy Ed" Fisher's two buckets and managed to retain it at the half.

After leading at the intermission by 15-11, the Salemites dropped behind slightly in the third quarter as the Rayenites, led by Al Goldberg, uncorked a scoring drive. Trailing by 21-19 entering the final chapter, the Quaker future varsity began a powerful assault which eventually brought them their eighth win. After the score had been doled out at 23-23, Dick "Birdy" Culberson and Phil Coad flipped in buckets to give the locals a lead which they never gave up. Just to tuck the game in the bag, Ed Fisher, Dick Greene and Frank "Cricket" Estriken joined the scoring parade. Culberson led the last quarter attack with three field goals while Ed Fisher tallied two.

Fisher headed the Salem scoring once more as he tallied 11 points on five fielders and a free shot. "Birdy" Culberson was right behind with nine markers. The rest of the locals' scoring was well split up.

Al Goldberg paced the Youngstown reserves in the scoring department with nine points while Jack Pickering and Christy Schiavone tossed in six apiece.

BOWLING RESULTS

There were no changes in the Federal league standings after last night's bowling. The league-leading Meissner's kept up their pace as they trimmed the Sanitary Shippers three games. Henry Meissner rolled a 203 his last game while Severn upheld the Shippers with a 219.

The second-place Sheen's five slipped behind somewhat as they lost one game of their match to the Sanitary Foremen. Brobender's 201 was high game.

In other matches, Brownie's took three from Beeler's and Eagles "B" took a pair from the K. of C. Chuck Malloy of Brownie's opened his series with a good 220 while Vince Malloy, Jr., of the same team rolled a 205 his last game and wound up with a 579 series.

The Colonial Finance five took two from the second-place Haldi's to retain their lead in the Grate Ladies' league standings. The match was rolled on the Grate alleys. Hine of the winners rolled a 210 her first game. The Coy's bowlers lost a chance to pick up a game as they won only two games from Endres-Gross. Kaufman's picked up a little ground in the league race as they administered a three-game defeat to the Eagles No. 2.

The fifth-place Schwartz's, bowling far below par, still managed to take a pair from Eagles No. 1, the Trades Class bowed twice to Hi-Ho and the A.A. A. copped two from the Salem China in other matches last night.

The Salem Eagles road team will meet the Bedford Eagles on the Masonic temple alleys in a bowling match at 8 tonight.

The Salem Eagles "Clowns" will also meet a team of Eagles from Bedford.

WAR WILL PRODUCE WELL CONDITIONED ATHLETES, BOXERS

Low Raymond, N. Orleans Promoter Says War Is Godsend to Nation

NEW ORLEANS—Low Raymond, former New York sports figure now promoting boxing here, believes the war will be a "Godsend" to America—because military physical training programs will create "the best trained nation in the world and the likes of Hitler will never dare to challenge us again."

Rotund Raymond expects the army, navy and marine corps to produce the greatest athletes and fighters this country has ever had. "You'll recall," he said in an interview, "that the first World War produced many fighters including Gene Tunney, a heavyweight champion of the world. But this time there'll be more and better boxers."

"And why? Because the boys who go into the army and navy today will come out better physically. They'll be better trained. We know more about training athletes than we did 20 years ago."

"Gene Tunney is doing a grand job for the navy. He is organizing a physical training corps that will be qualified to do the job. He has a system of training men—something we didn't have before."

"Mark my words—after this war is over, we'll have greater fighters and athletes than ever before. The war, you'll eventually see, is a Godsend. It will save millions of boys who were headed straight for the rocks. They weren't strong enough physically, so didn't have the moral courage to resist the temptations at every turn."

Raymond, who once managed Harry Wills, believes the dominant positions held by Negroes in boxing now is due to refusal of white boys to "take care of themselves and train with the same sacrifices."

"But wait until the war is over and you'll see a change," he predicted. "The white boys are coming out of the army and navy in better physical condition and with a different outlook."

GOSHEN FIVE BOWLS TO LEETONIA, 32-25

The Goshen cagers lost to the Leetonia quintet by a 32-25 count on the Goshen court last night in the last game for Goshen's coach, Jim Clark, who has enlisted in the naval reserves. The Leetonians, led by Heinze and Calvin, jumped off to an 8-4 lead at the quarter. They led by only 14-12 at the half and 22-19 at the end of three quarters of play. A last quarter spurt sewed up the game.

For Leetonia, Heinze and Calvin led the scoring, with 14 and 11 points, respectively, while for Goshen the point-making was well split up.

In a preliminary game the Goshen reserves scored an overwhelming 34-17 win over the Leetonians. Coach Clark, a student of Marietta college and the University of Wisconsin, has been game mentor at Goshen for two years. His predecessor, Clayton Sleydia, will succeed him as coach. Sleydia is, at present, athletic director of the school. Clark will be stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Freak Hit Is Made In Bowling Match

The "It-can't-be-done" theory has been exploded so frequently recently that the experts had best pause a few moments and study this one out before they offer to wager the family tires, with car thrown in.

It happened on the Grate alleys last night. Olive Ramsey, bowling with the Colonial Finance team, had clicked off three strikes in her last game. On her next shot, she picked off the No. 1 pin, the No. 5 and the No. 8 without nudging any other pins, including 2 and 3, from their spots. In other words, the ball cut almost a direct swath through the pins, veering a little to the left to get No. 8, instead of No. 9. The ball was of regulation size. So were the pins.

Now, the average bowler will say that the ball can't pass between Nos. 2 and 3 without touching them. But it actually did!

We thought at first of withholding the answer for a couple of days and to see how many could do it out themselves, but, fearing that the problem might become a bottleneck

Pridon Tallies Winning Points As Locals Notch Eighth Win Of Campaign

Newman Posey, Junior Wilcox Combine To Tally 29 Points For Rayenites; Guappone, Pridon Pace Torrid Salem Attack

Snatching victory from the very jaws of defeat, the Salem High cagers chalked up their eighth win of the current campaign as they defeated Youngstown Rayen, 36-35, on the local court last night. Sam Pridon was the hero of the night as he hoped an under-the-bucket shot in the last few seconds of the game amid the combined cheers and yells of a large and appreciative crowd.

A near miss occurred after the battle had ended when Coach Joe Horn of Rayen claimed that the clock had been stopped in those last few seconds. He and his team charged the officials in protest after Pridon's game-winning shot but it was all in vain as many of clock-watching fans vowed that the clock never faltered in its path to the final horn. The defeat was the second of the season for the flashy Rayenites.

Quakers Score First
Salvatore "Tut" Guappone flipped in a long shot to start the ball game and it was evident there that it would be a tight contest all the way because Newman Posey, 6 foot 3 inch pivot man, retaliated for his first score of the night. The Quakers set a torrid pace in the initial stanza as every member of the lineup crashed through into the scoring column. Guappone and Capt. Ray "Goose" McGaffick knifed the meshes twice apiece while Bob "Scubby" Scullion, Sam "Fox" Pridon and Johnny Volio contributed three, two and two points respectively. Posey cut the count three times to pace the Rayen assault. The home team led at the end of the period by 15-9.

The Salemites fell off their hot pace slightly but still held their rivals even as each scored nine points in the period. Pridon, Guappone and Volio accounted for all the Quakers' points in the quarter. Posey again led the Rayen attack as he flipped in four tallies. Junior Wilcox, successor to his brother who graduated with the mid-year class at Rayen High tomorrow night, flipped in one bucket but had a little trouble on several other attempts. The high scoring Steve Mackos, who teams with Wilcox at the forward posts, was held to a lone foul shot. Paul Dykes, a Negro guard, scored his only points of the fray in this period as he tallied one field goal.

After the intermission it was evident that the 10-minute interval had not damaged the Quakers' scoring power as they again outscored their opponents to lead at the three-quarter stage of the game 30-24. In this stanza it was again Guappone, Pridon and Volio who accounted for all the Quakers' tallies.

Posey "Cools Off"
Posey cooled off somewhat as he scored only a pair of foul shots while Wilcox and Gregory Colucci each swished a fielder.

The last frame was by far the most exciting of the ball game. It became evident, after a few minutes, that the Rayenites were out for blood. The Quakers were out for blood. The Rayen attack in this period consisted of two charity tosses each by Scullion and McGaffick and a bucket by Pridon. The Rayenites, meanwhile, decided to do a little scoring on their own hook and with Posey and Wilcox hitting six and five points respectively, it became quite a tilter.

Working the ball furiously all over the court, the Rayenites shook Wilcox and the giant Posey loose time after time and with but minutes to go, overhauled the Quakers and went ahead 34-33. At this stage of the game, Colucci fouled McGaffick who calmly dropped the ball through the rim to knot the count at 34-34. While coming up floor to assume his defensive position, Sam Pridon accidentally bumped into the burly Wilcox. With but seconds to go Wilcox cut the meshes with a perfect shot to give the Rayenites another one point edge.

The Quakers took the ball out of bounds and brought it up the floor. In doing so, a Rayen player tried to put on a last quarter rally to overhaul the little Quakers, but failed to do so, and wound up on the wrong end of a 29-25 count.

The win was the fourth of the campaign for the Freshmen against one defeat, this at the hands of the Salem reserves.

to defense workers, figured the answer had better be made public immediately.

Here's what happened: A tiny locknut dropped off the pin-setting mechanism, directly in front of the No. 1 pin. Miss Ramsey's ball hit the obstacle, jumped into the air and went between the necks, not the "fat" part, of the Nos. 2 and 3 pins, and then carried the Nos. 5 and 8 pins with it.

undertaking to "smother" the defenders with mass attacks elsewhere.

The communique, based on reports received until 9:30 a. m. eastern standard time, said:

"1. PHILIPPINE THEATER.

"Fresh Japanese troops are continuing heavy attacks on General MacArthur's troops in Batan peninsula. These attacks are particularly heavy on the left flank and are supported by the fire of hostile naval vessels and by aircraft.

"The enemy succeeded in taking a number of positions on the west coast. Fierce counter-attacks by our troops expelled the Japanese from some of these points, but others remain in possession of the enemy. Heavy losses were suffered on both sides.

"The enemy continues to land new troops in Subic bay and on the west coast of the Batan peninsula, greatly increasing the numerical superiority of the invaders.

"Though fatigued from constant fighting, American and Philippine troops continue their stubborn resistance, contesting savagely every advance made by the enemy. Their enthusiasm, courage and devotion are undiminished.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

on defense contracts or not, obtain a free booklet from the Cleveland office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation which is a manual of plant protection.

He also pointed out to the employers that "The personnel of your plants should be known to you now as never before."

Reports were given by John A. Woodward of Columbiana, chairman of the public welfare and medical preparedness committee of the Columbiana county defense organization; Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy of Salem, vice chairman of the fire and property protection committee; Russell Smith of East Liverpool, deputy state fire marshal, and Atty. W. Edmund Peters, chairman of the police committee.

Talks also were given by Atty. Ralph Atkinson, chairman of the Salem defense committee; Corp. James E. Bower of the state highway patrol, and Patrolman Nerr Gaunt of the Salem police department, who told of defense schooling.

The army lieutenant corroborated the statements of Fire Chief Malloy that fire is one of the saboteur's best weapons and all steps must be taken to insure the best of protection. Malloy traced the organization of fire brigades within the various shops whose job it will be to keep things under control until the regular department gets to the scene of the blaze.

Music during the dinner was provided by the Salem High school string trio.

Governor Bricker's Mother, 78, Stricken

MT. STERLING, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Laura Bricker, 78, who twice saw her son inaugurated as Ohio's governor, died unexpectedly last night of a heart attack.

Apparently in good health, Mrs. Bricker was stricken about 8:30 p. m. as she conversed with William Bricker, a nephew, and Freeman Mooney, her son-in-law. She died about 15 minutes later.

Gov. John W. Bricker, attending a Columbus dinner of the Ohio Newspaper association, left immediately for her home when informed of the attack.

Mrs. Bricker was widowed more than 20 years ago. Her husband, Lemuel S. Bricker, a farmer, died while the governor was a student at Ohio State university.

Although she was not active in public or club affairs, Mrs. Bricker had been well and vigorous, taking care of her home and managing the old Bricker farm in Pleasant township, Madison county, where her children were born.

Other survivors include her daughter, Mrs. Ella Mooney, Governor Bricker's twin sister; two grandchildren, and another nephew, Judge John R. King of the Franklin county common pleas court.

Funeral services for the woman the public knew only as the white-haired, smiling spectator who photographed so well at her son's inaugurations, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the home with burial in Mt. Sterling cemetery.

... new year ... new hopes ... new problems — and one old obligation — to keep on buying

U.S. Defense Bonds & Stamps

There's one resolution that every good citizen will maintain for the New Year of 1942 — and that is to buy Defense Bonds and Stamps regularly, in as large amounts as he can afford. It's a double defense measure—defense for the country now, defense for the individual against the uncertainties of the future.

This bank sells Defense Bonds. Issue prices range from $18.75 to $750, with maturity values from $25 to $1,000. Series F and Series G Savings Bonds yielding less income can be secured for larger investors.
